Facility braces for busy week

As temperature drops, warming shelter prepares for higher influx

WANT TO VOLUNTEER?

Anyone interested in volunteering can contact the Salvation Army at 812-265-2157.

BY BOB DEMAREE

It was bitter cold last weekend, but the forecast is for even colder weather this week but the Salvation Army in Madison is ready to provide a warm place to sleep at night and a meal for those without shelter.

Salvation Army Lt. Stephanie Hartley said last weekend the warming shelter averaged one to three clients per night at the Salvation Army building, 331 East Main Street.

"This year that's about what we have had," Hartley said, noting daytime temperatures have been in the 30s and 40s but colder last weekend.

She thinks the forecast for even colder temperatures ahead will result in more people needing the warming shelter. "This coming weekend, we're supposed to have an arctic blast coming in, and with it being even colder, I think we will have a higher number."

Operating the Salvation Army and warming shelter has been a challenge over the last few months amid COVID concerns and the impact the virus has had on the community both as a health and financial crisis.

She said she is grateful for the community's support. The warming shelter was funded for the winter through pledges and donations and the organization's Red kettle drive, held during the Christmas season, collected $126,899.01 — slightly more than the $115,000 goal.

"It was amazing with how everything has been," Hartley said.

She said the facility is well equipped with supplies and has 36 cots, along with blankets and food to easily meet the warming shelters' needs based on past history.

"Our biggest need is volunteers," Hartley said., adding that the availability of volunteers is critical to the Salvation Army's ability to provide the shelter in Madison.

Hartley and her husband, Lt. Justin Hartley, were appointed to serve at the Madison Salvation Army in the summer of 2019. And while a number of volunteers have stepped up, even more are needed.

"We have roughly 20 trained volunteers, but it takes six to run at night," she said, and it becomes challenging if the same people are needed to volunteer on multiple nights in a row, particularly for those with families and work responsibilities. "It would be amazing if we could have 50 to 60 volunteers," she said. "It would take the stress off the volunteers that we have now" particularly during cold waves when the shelter might be open for several consecutive days.

Clients needing shelter must check-in starting at 7:30 p.m. with check-out by 7 the next morning.

Clients needing shelter must check-in starting at 7:30 p.m. with check-out by 7 the next morning. There are two volunteer work shifts from 7:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. that involves registration and assisting with dinner service and the other from 1:30 a.m. to 7:30 a.m., which involves overseeing the facility, and helping tear down the shelter and set up to prepare breakfast since the shelter and dining room occupy the same space.

Citing efforts to protect the identity of the alleged victim, the sheriff's office declined to release additional details in the case and booking information on the Jennings County Jail website lists only that charges are pending.

Earlier, on Feb. 3, deputies from Jennings County arrested

Big increase in local COVID-19 deaths related to state-wide audit

62 total fatalities include some previously uncounted

BY BOB DEMAREE

Late last week the number of deaths from COVID-19 in Jefferson County made a dramatic increase, jumping from 38 — which the number had been on for about a week — to the now current number of 62 — a 62% increase.

Although the higher death toll number does reflect how many Jefferson County residents have died with the virus, the jump in deaths was not truly a one-day surge. Instead, a statewide audit found previously uncounted deaths that were due to COVID-19 adding 1,507 deaths to the state's COVID-19 death totals including the additional 38 in Jefferson County.

"There have been 62 resident deaths from COVID in all of Jefferson County, but they didn't all die in our county," said Jefferson County Health Department Administrator Tammy Monroe. She explained that local residents sometimes die in other locations, such as hospitals in other counties, and its takes some time for their deaths to be included in Jefferson County's COVID data.

"We will get the death certificate for all that die in Jefferson County, but not if they pass away in another county," Monroe said, noting the information still goes to the state. "If they don't die in our county, we won't know until the state notifies us."

Similarly, because healthcare facilities in Jefferson County serve surrounding counties, Monroe noted those counties must wait to be notified by the state if any of their residents die in Jefferson County.

Indiana State Health Commissioner Kristina Box said last week that many of the additional deaths were discovered during a year-end audit that entailed matching every death certificate with COVID-19 as a cause or contributing cause to a positive test.

In a press release, Box said, "Never before have local and state departments of health had to present data, in real time, before it was fully vetted. Since day one we have been committed to collecting and studying the data and ensuring data integrity so Hoosiers can rest assured that they are getting the accurate information."

The new data on additional deaths created a muchmore bleak picture of the exponential climb in Indiana's death rate. From June to September, the state averaged about 12 deaths per day as well as about 27 deaths per day in October, 64 in November, 94 in December and and 57 in January.

The state also reported that Jefferson County had 19 new cases of COVID-19, increasing the overall number to 2,835. So far 14,246 residents have been tested and the seven-day positivity percentage is currently 8.0% and the unique positivity rating is 14.5% — both improvements in the infection rate.

In Switzerland County, there were six new cases of COVID-19, increasing the overall number to 729. So far, 3,697 residents have been tested and the seven-day positivity is currently 15.9% and the unique positivity rating is 20.8%. A total of seven deaths have been attributed to the virus pandemic in Switzerland County.

Overall the state reported 58 new deaths and 1,065 new positive cases. So far there have been 640,744 positive cases overall and 11,459 deaths.

At last report, about 4,365 Jefferson County residents have received at least the first of two doses of the COVID vaccine. In Switzerland County, 755 have received at least the first of two doses of the vaccine.

In Kentucky, 1,532 new cases of COVID-19 were reported on Feb. 7, according to the Kentucky Department of Health. There have been 377,790 positive cases overall and 4,051 deaths including 31 new deaths. Carroll County has reported 833 cases of COVID-19 while Trimble County has reported 553 cases of COVID-19.

COVID vaccine and appointments for the vaccination are being taken by the state for the Jefferson County Health Department for residents age 65 and older, first responders and health care employees. Appointments must be scheduled by visiting www.ourshot.in.gov or calling 2-1-1.

For more information on COVID-19, you can visit the Indiana State Department of Health or the Kentucky Department of Health's websites.

In Remembrance Of
Frank Wood Copeland

Frank Wood Copeland, 94, died on February 1, 2021 in Salt Lake City, Utah, five days following the passing of his wife of 72 years, Betty Francisco Copeland. Frank, known to his family as Wood, was born August 19, 1926 on Copeland Ridge, Indiana to Bernard Copeland and Fern Jessup Copeland. He grew up during the Great Depression in a farming community with no electricity and running water. He attended a multi-grade, one room elementary school and graduated from North Madison High School in 1944.

Wood's life was transformed by WWII when he enlisted at age 17. He traveled and trained in states far from home; faced an emergency appendectomy by himself in a military hospital that delayed deployment to Europe; celebrated VE day in New York City; re-enlisted in 1945 and experienced troop ships to and from Europe. He served signal corp details at the Nuremberg War Crimes Trials. He learned to look at the world from broad perspectives while seeing the best and worst of people in a rapidly changing world.

Following WWII, he finished his degree at Hanover College and graduated in 1948. After marrying Betty, they moved to Detroit, Michigan where they lived for 35 years and raised their four children. Frank was a safety engineering manager for an insurance company during an era of a rapidly growing economy. He was a lifetime reader and researcher of a myriad of industries, issues, world religions, and national policies while mentoring numerous young professionals. Again, his career forced him to see the best and worst of industries, companies, and people while constantly challenging companies to improve their safety environment.

Beyond his career, Wood was selflessly devoted to his children, his wife, his parents, his siblings, and his community. Wood had a continuing devotion to education throughout his life. He served on the school board for 16 years where he improved educational standards in a district with limited resources. He was particularly proud of his children getting their bachelor's degrees and two advanced degrees and their commitment to their children's education. Beyond education, even his passion for gardening contributed to his sense of community. Preparing, sharing, and conversing about gardening and farming engaged Wood and Betty in their communities far beyond their personal needs throughout their life. They retired to Wirt, Indiana in 1984 to be near and care for their parents. They subsequently lived in Texas for 3 years before returning to Indiana in 2009. They later moved to Salt Lake City to be near their daughter. Betty and Wood enjoyed camping across Michigan and Canada with their children and continued to travel to see their children and grandchildren across the country. In their retirement years, they were fortunate to enjoy travel abroad.

Frank was preceded in death by his wife, Betty, his parents, his brothers in-law Jack Beckett and Dan Caldwell (Wanda), his in-laws Joseph and Virginia Francisco; his in-laws Mary Louise Francisco Morgan Kreamelmeyer, Douglas Morgan and Bob Kreamelmeyer; his brother in-law Theo Wennen (Martha); He is survived by his sisters Wanda Caldwell and Kay Richmond (Bert); sister in-law Martha Wennen; children Jane Blair (Kim) of Salt Lake City UT, son Mark Copeland (Becky) of Lilburn GA, son Robert Copeland (Gwen) of Harrisburg, PA and son Carter Copeland (Leslie) of Houston TX; nine grandchildren Douglas, Karen, and Lane (Mark), Alex and Sam (Rob), Emily and John (Jane), Megan and Daniel (Carter); and seven great grandchildren. Memorial donations may be made to the Nature Conservancy, 4245 N Fairfax Drive, Ste 100, Arlington, VA, 22203-1606, in memory of Frank W Copeland.

A Memorial Mass and Internment Service will be announced and held later in Madison, Indiana.

Madison ends 3-game skid with gutsy OT win

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

BATESVILLE — An overtime victory over a five-win team may not seem like much, but for a Madison team mired in a season-worst three-game losing streak, Saturday's win felt like the biggest of the season.

Madison overcome a terrible first-quarter start to beat Batesville 64-61 in overtime on the road and end a three-game skid. The game wasn't decided until the waning moments of the contest when sophomore Kaden Oliver hit two free throws and drew a charge — all in the final 10 seconds — to finally put the Bulldogs away.

The Cubs didn't play their best game of the season but as far as coach Sherron Wilkerson was concerned, the win was a thing of beauty.

"This is probably the most rewarding win of the season," Wilkerson said. "We've had a tough stretch here over the last three games and tonight I thought we got off slow but then, man, perseverance kicked in. I thought we responded to the challenge."

Batesville (5-12) jumped out to a 13-4 lead less than four minutes into the game but rather than tuck and run, the Cubs responded. With freshman Jake Miller and senior Luke Schafer both coming off the bench to lead the charge, Madison closed the quarter on a 12-3 run to tie the game.

Madison (11-5) actually led by as many as five (30-25) in the second quarter but couldn't pull away and entered the half locked in a 32-32 tie with Miller and Schafer combining for 18 of the Cubs' points.

The largest lead either team had in the second half was four when Jack Miller knocked down his fourth 3-pointer of the game to put Madison ahead 47-43 moments into the fourth quarter. But Batesville erased that lead quickly and eventually took a 52-49 lead with 1:55 left in regulation on a Sam Voegle 3-pointer.

The Cubs answered with an Oliver free throw and Jack Miller took a charge on the other end to get the ball back. Madison then milked the clock all the way down to less than 10 seconds when Nick Center hit a layup off a Luke Ommen assist with 3.4 seconds to go to tie the game.

Batesville got a good look at the buzzer but Eli Pierson's attempt banged off the rim. The overtime then belonged to the Cubs, who got a Luke Miller basket seconds into the extra frame, Oliver drove to the basket for back-to-back buckets and Ommen hit two free throws to push Madison ahead 60-56 with 26 seconds to go.

Batesville got two points back on the other end when Voegle hit two free throws, but Oliver calmly sank two free throws on his end to push the margin back to four. Oliver then drew a charge on the Bulldogs' R.J. Powell with five seconds to go and Ommen hit two more free throws to seal the win. Cole Werner's 3-pointer at the buzzer for Batesville set the final margin.

Ommen led the Cubs with 14 points and Oliver had 12 but it was the 12 points by both Jack Miller and Schafer — both career-highs — that were the difference in the game.

"We were missing one of our starters today (Jackson Falconberry) but it goes to show you the depth that we have on this roster," Wilkerson said. "We told the guys that we were going to have to have some guys step up today and sure enough, right as you challenge them, they answer the call."

Luke Miller added nine points and Center had five for the Cubs, who shot 52% from the floor (23-for-44) for the game including 3-of-5 in the overtime. Madison did have 18 total turnovers, but only seven in the second half.

Thomas Raver led Batesville with 16 points while Powell had 14 and Werner and Voegle scored 12 each.

Madison faces a very difficult week ahead with three very good opponents over a span of five days. The Cubs host Jennings County (9-6) today, head to Floyd Central (10-3) on Friday and host Class 3A No. 7 Greensburg (13-2) on Saturday.

Poor start dooms Madison in loss to Silver Creek

Nutley breaks rebounding record

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

Any hopes Madison had of shocking No. 1 Silver Creek evaporated before the first quarter expired, but rather than lie down and quit, the Cubs spent the last three quarters valiantly trying to save their season, fighting the Dragons to the bitter end.

Madison ultimately lost 51-36 in the semifinals of the Class 3A Girls Basketball Sectional on the Cubs' home floor on Friday night but considering that Creek scored the first 20 points of the game, it easily could have been worse.

Madison coach Sonja Bowyer was proud of the way her team fought against the state's top-ranked team, but she couldn't help but wonder if a better start could have made a difference.

"I felt like it was one of those nights where the basket could have been this big and it still wouldn't have gone in," Bowyer said, holding her arms as wide as she could. "I felt like the first quarter and into the second quarter we just came out so tentative. We were scared to pass, we were scared to shoot. I just felt like one, we weren't getting those shots off and two, the shots we were getting off weren't our best shots. Every single thing that could go wrong, did go wrong."

The same two teams met on the same floor three weeks earlier and it was a close game throughout with Silver Creek pulling away late for a 46-38 win.

Friday's game was never that close. Silver Creek (20-3) jumped out to a 7-0 lead — prompting Bowyer to call timeout — then scored 11 more to lead 18-0 at the first break and essentially make the game never in doubt. The Dragons' lead reached 20-0 early in the second when Jade Nutley finally broke the run for Madison with a basket in the lane.

From that point on, Madison outscored Creek 36-31 the rest of the way, but still trailed 29-7 at halftime and 41-17 after three quarters. The Cubs won the fourth quarter 19-10 for the final margin.

There was little to cheer about in the game for the Cubs but what there was came in the form of Nutley. The 6-foot-1 senior cemented her place in the pantheon of Madison girls basketball players with one final double-double, scoring 17 points and pulling down 14 rebounds to lead the way.

Nutley scored Madison's first 13 points of the game and had 14 of the Cubs' 17 points in the first half. Along the way she broke Olivia Crozier's record for rebounds in a career — she finished with 932 — and her 1,401 career points are third-most in school history and sixth-most among Jefferson County girls.

"She's a great kid and I know this is crazy to say, but I still feel like we can see some great and even better things at the next level," Bowyer said. "She's going to have so many other combinations and she's going to have that much more hunger. I told her that she needs to make that first half her hunger and let that fuel you and I think she will do that. She's the kind of kid that comes in before practice and stays after practice and she's going to do that at the next level as well."

Madison's Jade Nutley battles her way to the basket during the Cubs' sectional loss to Silver Creek at home on Friday.

Fellow seniors Lundun Perry and Daesja Jay scored eight and five points, respectively, while sophomores Alaina Kelley and Cadence Traylor scored three points each.

Kynidi Striverson scored 13 points, Alana Striverson had 12 points and six assists, and Marissa Gasaway had 11 points and 11 rebounds to lead Silver Creek.

Silver Creek advanced to the sectional championship on Saturday where the Dragons blasted defending state runner-up Salem 46-27 in a matchup of the state's top two ranked teams.

Madison ends the season with a 12-12 record and graduates four seniors — Jay, Chloe Ferris, Nutley and Perry.

Cubs send record 7 onto semistate

Cubs' Walls, Burkhardt capture regional crowns

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Nine local wrestlers punched their tickets to the semistate after an impressive performance at the IHSAA Regional at Jeffersonville on Saturday.

Seven of the advancers — including regional champions Jace Walls and Noah Burkhardt — are from Madison, a school record for the highly-decorated program, while Southwestern's Brady McLain and Switzerland County's Jacob Wolf also earned berths to the next level.

Five Cubs reached the championship bout with Walls and Burkhardt each coming out on top.

Walls, a freshman, pinned Columbus North's Jason Shuey in 3:41 to win the title at 120 pounds and improve to 39-7 on the season. Burkhardt, a junior, improved to 46-1 on the season with a dominating run through the 126-pound weight class culminating in a pin of Jeffersonville's Devin McDaniel in 4:42.

Luke McCarty (160 pounds, 36-11 record), Van Skinner (170, 36-5) and Dylan Fulton (220, 33-12) each finished second in their respective weight classes while Kelsey Bilz (106, 34-13) and Drake Youngblood (182, 27-17) each placed fourth but qualified for the semistate. Bilz, who won the girls state championship at 106 pounds last month, is the first female in Madison history to qualify for the IHSAA semistate and is believed to be just the third female in the state's history to achieve the feat.

McLain (220, 17-8) and Wolf (132, 27-6) each placed fourth to qualify for the semistate for the second-straight year.

Madison's Emmett Wilhite (138, 39-6), Trenton Stockdale (152, 26-13) and Dalton Berry (195, 33-5) each lost in the quarterfinals and did not place.

Columbus East scored 236 points to win the regional championship while Jeffersonville was second with 133 and Charlestown was third with 114. Madison placed fourth with 112 points, while Southwestern and Switzerland County each tied for 15th place with six points.

The IHSAA Semistate will be held at Jasper High School on Saturday beginning at 9 a.m. The top three finishers in each weight class will advance to the state finals.

INDIANA HIGH SCHOOL ROUNDUP

May scores 21 in Shawe's setback to Indiana Deaf

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Shawe Memorial girls basketball saw its season come to an end at the hands of Class A No. 1 Trinity Lutheran, 86-23, in the semifinals of the IHSAA Class A Sectional at Edinburgh on Friday.

The Hilltoppers, who had played only 10 games all season coming in due to COVID restrictions, were no match for the mighty Cougars, who went on to win the sectional title on Saturday 7-31 over West Washington in the title game.

Shawe actually led the game 2-0 but trailed 25-6 at the end of the first quarter and 47-7 at halftime as Trinity pulled away.

Junior Jazmien Cox exploded for a career-high 19 points on three 3-pointers and accounted for nearly all of Shawe's offense. Phoebe Grote scored two points for the Hilltoppers while Katie Jacobs and Calli Alderman had a point each.

Bailey Tabeling scored 24 points and Sydney Jaynes had 23 to lead Trinity.

Shawe ends the season with a 2-9 record. The Hilltoppers graduate two seniors, Grote and Abigail Hill.

Local girls teams wrap up season on high note at sectional

Cubs with 10 personal bests; Rebels' Worcester with 2 records

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

The girls swim seasons for Madison, Southwestern and Switzerland County all came to an end on Saturday but not before all three performed well in the IHSAA Sectional at Floyd Central.

Madison had 10 personal bests and placed sixth overall while Southwestern set two more school records and placed seventh out of the 15 teams despite having only four swimmers. Switzerland County was ninth overall.

"We are so thankful for the season we had with this team and their hard work paid off again," Madison coach Ashley Schutte said. "The Lady Cubs represented in finals or consoles in all but two swimming events."

"This season has been crazy. From quarantines, the pool breaking down, and COVID cancellations we felt fortunate to have made it to this weekend," Southwestern coach Shelly Anderson said.

Madison's best finish came in the 200 freestyle relay where the team of Emily Nay, Brett Cahall, Katie Royce and Trinity Stoner placed fifth in 1:53.58. The same quartet was seventh in the 200 medley relay in 2:08.79 while Royce, Alyssa Storm, Callie Anderson and Andie Royce-Miller were ninth in the 400 freestyle relay in 4:26.54. All three relays posted best times.

Nay placed eighth in the 100 butterfly in a personal-best 1:05.22 and was the only individual to compete in the finals for Madison.

Other finishes for the Cubs were: Nay, ninth, 100 back, 1:08.01 (personal best); Royce, 10th, 500 free, 6:06.46 (personal best) and 11th, 200 free, 2:17.70 (personal best); Stoner, 11th, 50 free, 28.33 and 13th, 100 free, 1:02.18 (personal best); Anderson, 12th, 100 fly, 1:14.02 (personal best); Royce-Miller, 12th, 100 back, 1:16.32 (personal best); Cahall, 14th, 50 free, 29.09; and Libby Bronkella, 16th, 100 back, 1:23.62.

Southwestern's Julia Worcester broke two school records — marks she had set just two nights earlier in the preliminaries — as the junior was sixth in the 200-yard freestyle in 2:06.92 and sixth in the 100 breaststroke in 1:14.21.

Senior Belle Crawford was fourth in the 100 butterfly in 1:04.27 and eighth in the 100 backstroke in 1:08.15 while sophomore Amiah Owen was 11th in the 100 backstroke in 1:14.25.

Worcester, Crawford, Owen and Audrey Bare swam sixth in the 200 medley relay in 2:07.33 and seventh in the 400 freestyle relay in 4:22.40.

Switzerland County had two relays in the finals. The team of Alisha Detmer, Carly Bennett, Ava Cole and Kaelin Taylor were eight in the 200 freestyle relay in 2:01.19 and eighth in the 400 freestyle relay in 4:29.18. They were also 10th in the 200 medley relay in 2:25.07.

Taylor was 12th in the 500 freestyle in 6:25.07, Cole was 15th in 100 butterfly in 1:19.38 and Detmer placed 16th in the 50 freestyle in 29.56.

Floyd Central scored 519 points to win its fourth-straight sectional title followed by Jeffersonville (427), Seymour (330), New Albany (212), Jennings County (171), Madison (127), Southwestern (108), Scottsburg (95), Switzerland County (66), Charlestown (65), Salem (49), Providence (44), and Henryville (32).

Focus now turns to the boys swim teams, who will compete in the IHSAA Sectional at Floyd Central beginning on Thursday, Feb. 18.

2A BASKETBALL SECTIONAL

Pacers' offense goes cold in title game loss to South Ripley

BY DAVID CAMPBELL

VERSAILLES — For the second time in two weeks Switzerland County's offense ground to a halt against South Ripley and this time, it cost the Pacers a sectional championship.

Switzerland was held to just two field goals through the first three quarters and didn't get its offense going until it was too late in a 42-26 loss to South Ripley in the championship game of the Class 2A Girls Basketball Sectional at South Ripley on Saturday.

Nothing the Pacers tried in the first quarter worked as shot after shot either clanged off the rim or missed it entirely. The host Raiders didn't exactly burn the nets down themselves, but by the end of the third quarter, South Ripley had built a 31-9 cushion to put the game away.

It was exactly the type of performance Switzerland had posted during a 38-22 loss to the Raiders a week earlier when the Pacers shot just 12% from the floor. Switzerland coach Mark Boggs was left at a loss for words in trying to describe why.

"I credit South Ripley for their defensive effort. They do a really nice job in their 1-2-2," Boggs said. "We told the girls at the beginning of the game that we had to hit shots and unfortunately, the percentages don't lie. We didn't hit shots."

South Ripley (17-5) led only 6-3 after the first quarter but a 10-0 run to start the second staked the Raiders to a 16-3 lead and a 20-5 advantage at halftime. With the way Switzerland's offense was struggling, that 15-point lead might as well have been 30.

Junior Jessie Duvall hit a 3-pointer with 2:23 left in the first quarter but it was the only field goal the Pacers would hit for the next two quarters. Nora Hankins sank two free throws late in the second and added a third foul shot early in the third before Duvall drilled a 3-pointer with 32 seconds left in the third to close the gap to 31-9.

As Switzerland fell further and further back, the basket got smaller and smaller and digging out of the hole proved impossible.

David Campbell

Switzerland County's Keirstan Oeffinger (10) gets her shot blocked by South Ripley's Sarah Meyer (5) during the sectional championship game on Saturday.

"It wears on you both mentally and physically," Boggs said. "These kids gave 100% the night before and I knew they were going to be playing on some adrenaline but ultimately as time goes on, it starts to mentally stick."

Switzerland finally found its groove in the fourth and nearly tripled its scoring total with a 17 points but it wasn't nearly enough as Ripley pulled away for the win.

Jessie Duvall scored 13 points to lead Switzerland while Hankins had six, Gracie White scored four and Keirstan Oeffinger had three.

Rachel Meyer scored 14 points and Janire San Miguel had 10 points to lead South Ripley.

Switzerland ends the season with an 18-6 record, its best wins total since scoring 21 in the 2014-15 season that ended in the regional finals. The Pacers graduate two players, Oeffinger and Jayden Thomas, but bring back four starters for next year.

2A BASKETBALL REGIONAL

Switzerland rallies for OT victory over Southwestern

BY ROB LAFARY

VERSAILLES — Switzerland County faced yet another potential upset in sectional play for the second-straight season but a late comeback in the fourth quarter sent momentum the Lady Pacers' way in a 40-35 overtime win over Southwestern in the semifinals of the Class 2A Sectional 45 girls basketball tournament on Friday night at South Ripley.

The Pacers erased a nine-point deficit in the fourth quarter, sending the game into overtime. Switzerland County finished the extra period outscoring the Rebels 6-1 en route to the win.

"I give a lot of credit to Devin (Brierly) and her staff and their game plan ... they really took away the things we are best at," Switzerland County coach Mark Boggs said. "They hit some shots at some crucial times but we went to the huddle and said don't panic. I'm just really proud of their resilience."

Ellie Foley drilled a corner 3-pointer at the buzzer that gave Southwestern a 25-16 advantage through three quarters but the no-panic approach seemed to click for Switzerland County and the Pacers started down the comeback trail.

With the Rebels hampered by serious foul trouble, Switzerland County quickly sliced into the lead. The Pacers eventually tied the game 31-31 with three minutes to go on two Jessie Duvall free throws. Maddie Duvall later sank a freebie to give the Pacers a brief one-point lead with 2:39 left.

Foley connected on a three-point play at the 2:28 mark to put Southwestern back on top 34-32 but Jessie Duvall again hit a shot to tie the game and the 34-34 score held up through the remainder of regulation, forcing overtime.

Southwestern opened overtime with a 35-34 lead on a Foley free throw but never scored again. Foley and Ashton Goode both exited with five fouls and Switzerland County took over, getting a combined four points from Hallie Archer and Jessie Duvall and the Pacers never trailed again en route to the win.

"In a sectional it is about a game of runs," Boggs said of the comeback. "They had their run, then we got our run at a crucial time. We guarded at a high level and we extended our pressure in the second half when we needed to and after that it came down to one or two possessions. Our girls made plays when they needed to."

The loss served as a major sting to Southwestern, which made a comeback of its own in the first half.

The Rebels trailed 6-1 after the first quarter but answered with the back-to-back 12-5 runs in each the second and third quarter. Appearing to be in the driver's seat, not only did the lead slip away but Southwestern also was forced to change its game plan as fouls piled up and Switzerland County came on to steal the win.

"Really proud of our effort," Southwestern coach Devin Brierly said. "We did everything we could to win the game but obviously it came down to a few possessions and players in foul trouble which was not expected. We fought through everything that got thrown at us and again I am proud of our fight."

Neither team shot better than 26% from the field, a mark that was totaled by Switzerland County as Southwestern was held to 23% shooting for the game and 29 turnovers.

Jessie Duvall led the Pacers in scoring with 16 points while Keirstan Oeffinger followed with nine points and five rebounds. Southwestern was led by Foley with 13 points and Trinity McLain scored 12 points, all coming during the Rebels' run in the middle of the game.

Southwestern finishes the season with a 13-9 record.

HANOVER ROUNDUP

Panthers dominate 2nd half in win over Manchester

BY COURIER STAFF REPORT

Hanover dominated the second half and pulled away for an 85-69 win over Manchester at home on Saturday in men's college basketball.

The Panthers were originally scheduled to play a pair of games with Earlham over the weekend but COVID issues at the school forced postponement. Hanover and Manchester scheduled the non-conference game at the last moment.

Hanover led only 44-43 at halftime but outscored the Spartans 41-26 over the final 20 minutes to pick up the win.

Josiah Ricketts, a freshman from New Harmony, came off the bench to score 16 points to lead Hanover while Ty Houston, a sophomore from Union, Kentucky, had 15 points, Matt Munoz, a freshman from Indianapolis, scored 11 and Connor Washburn, a senior from Indianapolis, had 10.

Matt Westman led Manchester with 19 points and Jackson Jannsen scored 17.

Hanover, now 4-3 overall and 2-1 in the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference, squares off against Transylvania for two games later this week. The two teams will meet in Lexington, Kentucky on Thursday and in Hanover on Saturday.

VOLLEYBALL SWEEPS BLUFFTON

Hanover volleyball came away with two five-set wins over Bluffton in a hard-fought battle Saturday at home.

Hanover won the first set of the opener 25-22 and after dropping the next two, rallied to win the final two sets 25-19 and 15-8. The Panthers then won the second match 24-26, 25-19, 22-25, 25-22 and 15-11.

In the first match, Emma Harmon, a sophomore from Carmel, had 19 kills while Kelsey Ketcham, a junior from Mishawaka, had 28 assists and Amber Miller, a senior from Louisville, had 13 digs.

In the second match, Maddie Edwards, a junior from Jasper, had 10 kills and two blocks, Maura Dankoski, a junior from Fishers, had eight kills, Ketcham had 22 assists and 11 digs, Aubrey Walton, a freshman from Linton, had 19 assists, and Miller had 14 digs.

Hanover, now 6-3 overall and 3-2 in the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference, travels to Earlham on Wednesday for a pair of matches and hosts Rose-Hulman for one match on Saturday.

SWIMMERS DROP DUAL AT FRANKLIN

Hanover's swimmers finished second in a dual meet at Franklin on Saturday.

The women lost 151-50 while the men fell 166-34.

Ilys Anderson, a sophomore from Hebron, Kentucky, figured into both of Hanover's wins. Anderson won the women's 50-yard freestyle in 26.20 and teamed with Claire Horn, Megan Brandt and Alaina Simmons to win the 200 freestyle relay in 1:47.08.

Other top finishes for the Hanover women were: Abby Boyt, second, 100 breast, 1:16.30; Simmons, Liz Bolinger, Maddie DiFillippo and Anderson, second, 200 medley relay, 2:00.00; Simmons, third, 200 free, 2:09.19; and Brandt, third, 100 back, 1:10.97.

Top finishes for the Hanover men were: Josh Jones, second, 1650 free, 19:01.06; Michael Griffith, second, 200 free, 1:52.30 and second, 100 fly, 57.75; Dustin Wilson, second, 100 free, 52.45; James Moll, third, 100 back, 59.51; and Will Morgan, 100 breast, 1:07.90.

Hanover now has the rest of the month off before hitting the pool in Friday, March 5 for the Heartland Collegiate Athletic Conference championships at Rose-Hulman.

TRACK OPENS AT DEPAUW

Hanover track & field opened the indoor season with a dual meet at DePauw on Saturday.

The Panther women won five events but lost the meet 61-45. The Hanover men won six events in a 54-48 loss.

Former Switzerland County Pacer Leah Anders, now a freshman at Hanover, finished second in the 3000-meter run in 11:42.58.

In it for the long haul

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Anne: I'm a 49-year-old who has been dating and living with my girlfriend for almost one year now. I'm madly in love with her, and she says the same. We have talked about marriage, and I would love to, but she keeps saying no.

She went through a 25-year marriage that she thought would last forever. She had been single for a few years, until the time we started dating. When we talk about it, she says her fear is that, one day, I will leave her, too. I can't get her to understand that I'm not like that, and she would have to try hard to push me away.

What can I do or say to ease her mind? — Confused and In Love

Dear Confused and In Love: It sounds like she is traumatized from the abandonment she suffered during her first marriage. She is frozen with fear, anticipating that what happened to her the first time will happen again.

As a couple, communication is key. Rather than trying to "get her to understand" that you're not like that, listen to her concerns. Then, instead of pressuring her to do something she does not feel comfortable with, try creating some future plans. Continue to express what your needs are, and allow her to express her needs, without trying to change her. And encourage her to seek professional help for her trauma. It sounds like she is hurting.

Dear Annie: This is for "Unheard Girlfriend," the woman whose future husband doesn't help with the housework even though they both work, while she also does the majority of the child care tasks.

Years ago, I had a very good male friend with whom I spent a lot of time. We watched ball games while his wife spent the evening doing household chores. It frustrated me that he didn't help, so I presented it to him as follows: I just don't get why, if you really love someone, you'd want them to work full time like you, and then spend the evening working while you sit here enjoying yourself.

If you both share the work, then you'll have more time to enjoy each other and she won't be so exhausted. It worked! After that, he took pride in showing me the list of chores she'd given him to accomplish while she was gone at work. (Like many men, he'd grown up in a house where housework was not expected of him, so he needed guidance). Everyone dirties things, so everyone should learn to clean up after themselves. — Friend Who Needed a Nudge

Dear Nudge: You sound like a very good friend. Sometimes, we need friends or family — or advice columnists — in our lives who see our blind spots and point them out in a productive manner. It might sting in the moment for a little but will be much better in the long run to know the truth. Bravo to you.

Closing the book on childish behavior

ANNIE LANE
DEAR ANNIE

Dear Annie: My stepmother is the epitome of a wicked stepmother. My sister and I are grown and have our own lives and families. Our father married "Mary." We believe it was out of loneliness. She is 15 years younger than him and has a drinking problem. She says the drinking is under control, but it is quite clear it isn't. She has a record for driving under the influence and for drug possession charges. Again, we were told it was all under control.

My sister and I have been ignored, talked about, lied about and made to feel unwelcome in our dad's home. However, we put all that aside because our dad said he was happy and that she took care of him. We continued to try and get along with Mary.

The problem is that he is seriously ill now after having his second stroke, and she is being very cruel and secretive with information and updates on our dad's health. She has said more than once, "He is my husband." So? He is and always will be my dad and my responsibility. I've tried to explain that this not the time for childish drama; we need to come together and do what's best for our dad. But she slams the door in our face every time. I am not walking away from my dad. What is the resolution here? When our dad gets out of the hospital, he does not need this. What do I do? — Emotionally Drained

Dear Emotionally Drained: First, I am very sorry about your dad's stroke. May his recovery and rehabilitation be easy. Second, I'm sorry to hear that your relationship with your stepmother is so strained. You don't deserve to be treated rudely, and "Mary" does not own your father.

However, let's take a look at who's being childish here. You've labeled Mary a "wicked stepmother," cite her history of addiction as a moral failing and fault her for wanting to take care of her husband. I agree with you. It's time to set aside the dramatics and focus on what matters here — your dad's health. If you're willing to own where you've been at fault in this not-so-happily ever after, your "wicked" stepmom might do the same.

However, if your stepmom continues to keep her husband from his children, that could constitute abusive behavior. Your best option would be to find an attorney to advise you on your options.

Dear Annie: I'd like to comment on the letter from "Wedding Woes," where the husband of the disabled daughter is not invited to the wedding. This is wrong on every level. But if the daughter really wants to go, perhaps her husband could assist her with the arrangements and travel but not attend the wedding. (Perhaps her mom could take over during the ceremony and reception.) Then the daughter and her husband could enjoy a few days on vacation and turn a "challenging" trip into something fun. The wedding only lasts a couple of hours, but the fun vacation memories could last a lifetime. — Making the Best of It

Dear Making the Best of It: Thank you for your letter and the advice to take a possibly distressing event and make it work for everyone. When life gives you lemons make some lemonade and enjoy.

OBITUARY

Dave Childress

David Lamar Childress, 76, of Madison, Indiana, died Friday, Jan. 22, 2021, at his home.

He was born in Los Angeles on March 5, 1944, to Lamar and Helen Schultz Childress. He graduated from Anaheim High School in 1962 and enjoyed playing on the high school football team, surfing in the nearby ocean and hiking in the mountains. He served in the US Army with tours of duty in Vietnam, Turkey and Taiwan from 1963-1967. At age 26, he was not only born again but attended and graduated Biola College, earning a master's degree from Talbot Seminary, just outside Los Angeles. During a summer while in college, he traveled to minister to Native Americans in British Columbia, Canada, and met another summer volunteer worker, Ann Phillips, from Indiana. They married the following year, returned additional summers to serve in BC, and later had three children. Following seminary, the family served with O.C. Ministries in the Philippines, where he was involved in evangelism, as well as educating and training local pastors. Years later, he was critically injured in an accident there and, due to those injuries, had to return to live in the US. The family settled in Southern Indiana, where he pastored local churches. He served on the Southwestern School Board and coached his children's softball, baseball and basketball teams. In the 1990s he created and produced local religious radio programs "Silverwing" and "Solid Rock." Prior to retiring, he served in the Madison schools as an English as a Second Language teacher K-12 working with international students. He enjoyed spending time with his grandchildren and developing elaborate slip'n slides and fireworks displays along with songs of worship. He was active in Cornerstone Community Fellowship.

Survivors include his wife of 46 years; his children, Lydia Pfenniger of Fort Wayne, Indiana, Susanna Childress Banner of Holland, Michigan and Micah Childress of Grand Rapids, Michigan; and 10 grandchildren, several nieces, nephews and other relatives.

He was preceded in death by his parents; a brother, Dennis Childress; a sister, Cathy Thomas; a grandson and other relatives.

Funeral services will be at 1 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 13, at the Cornerstone Community Fellowship Church in Madison. Interment will follow in the Indiana Veterans Memorial Cemetery in Madison. Visitation is noon until the time of services Saturday at the church. A final salute with full military honors will be provided by the Major Samuel Woodfill Post No. 9 of the American Legion.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Cornerstone Community Fellowship Church or the Samaritan's Purse. Cards are available at the funeral home and church. Online condolences, www.morgan-nay.com.

ASSAULTS

Mark Liles, 23, North Vernon, on a warrant for rape, a Level 3 felony.

That arrest came after a nearly four-month investigation that was initiated on Oct. 9, 2020, after JCOS Sgt. Doug Brown was notified that a juvenile female had been the victim of an unwanted sexual encounter while at a residence in Sand Creek Township in the north central part of the county.

During that investigation, it was determined that Liles had picked up the female at her residence and took her to a remote cabin in Sand Creek Township where he allegedly made unwanted sexual advances after being told to stop.

Liles is also being held in the Jennings County Jail without bond.

SHELTER

Additionally, volunteer are encouraged, but not required, to take five hours of Emergency Disaster Services training.

"It's not mandated but we like them to have that, so they have the full picture" of what they might encounter as volunteers, Hartley said.
